DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tong et al (Pub. No.: US 2002/0186329) hereinafter Tong.

3. For claim 1, Tong teaches:

Art Unit: 2609

An LCD for use in a particular region comprising: an electronics board (circuit board – see figure 4 item 406) within a housing of the LCD (see figures 1, 2, and 4 and [0017]); at least one access slot to the electronics board from outside of the housing (see figure 3 – item 306); and at least one insertable module which mates with the electronics board through the at least one access slot (dock) (see figure 3 – item 304 and 306); wherein the at least one insertable module is configured for a particular region and comprises at least one of a tuner, an extended audio and video connector, and a power supply (see figures 1, 2, 3, and 4, [0018], [0020], [0024]).

For claims 2-4 (dependent on claim 1), note figures 1 (item 113) and 4 (item 406 – main circuit/electronics board), [0020] and [0030] which establish that the module can be any one of a many modules that has a specific operation, such as providing the display with PAL, SECAM, or NTSC tuning capabilities which correspond to specific geographic regions to accommodate the respective mode.

For claims 5 and 6 (dependent on claim 1), note figure 1 (item 102), [0018] and [0030] teach a power supply from dock (item 102) or additional external module ([0018]), and well known video standards like NTSC (which requires 110 V AC at 60 Hz) and PAL (which require 230 V AC at 50 Hz) are accommodated.

For claim 7 (dependent on claim 1), note figure 1 (item 114) and [0033] teach the extended audio-video connector module configured for use with at least one of an S-video input, a VGA input, a SCART input, a component video input, a composite video input, an optical audio input, a coaxial audio input, and an RCA audio input.

For claim 8, Tong teaches:

Art Unit: 2609

A circuit board assembly of an LCD (see [0017]), comprising: a mother (main circuit) board (see figure –item 406) including (i) an audio-video decoder (see [0024]), (ii) a connector interface for receiving at least one analog signal from an external source, (iii) an analog to digital converter for converting the at least one analog signal into an at least one digital signal (see Abstract, [0009], [0016], [0017], [0032], [0033], and [0036]) , (iv) a scaler for reconvertng the at least one digital signal into an at least one video signal (see [0009], [0016], [0017], [0032], [0033], and [0036]), and (v) an LCD panel for receiving the at least one video signal from the scaler for displaying images thereon; an insertable power supply module for generating power to operate the motherboard, said power supply module being configured to operate at a power supply rating specific to a region where the LCD is to be operated; an insertable audio-video interface module comprising audio-video input-output connectors for receiving audio-video signals from the mother board or transmitting the same to the mother board (see Abstract, figure 1 – items 112-116, [0009], [0016], [0017], [0032], [0033], and [0036]); and an insertable tuner module for receiving the TV signal and transmitting the same to the audio-video decoder, wherein the tuner module is configured for operation in the region (see [0030] wherein PAL, NTSC, and SECAM tuners operate according to designated geographic regions).

For claims 9 and 10 (dependent on claim 8), external sources include a computer (see figure 1 – item 112 and [0019]) and a video game console system (see figure 1 – item 116 and [0023]).
